Plane Windows Get the Bird

VULTURE MEETS PLANE and this happens—chicken proves it.

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS — The Civil Aeronautics Administration's experimental station here has gone into the artificial hailstone business along with pelting airplane windshields with dead chickens.

The idea is to find out how much punishment the laminated glass and plastic can take before it gives way and lets a piece of ice or a vulture smack the pilot in the face.

Birds have caused many plane accidents, especially in taking off, landing, and flying low over mountain ranges.

So far, only one commercial plane has a windshield that meets the CAA ideal. A four-pound bird, hitting the shield at the ship's cruising speed, just bounces off. Thin electrical wires that keep the glass-plastic sandwich warm have a great deal to do with its resistance. Cold makes windshields brittle.

A giant air gun flings towels and other objects against the windshields with velocities up to 500 miles an hour. A special "sub-caliber" barrel will be used in the hailstone tests which will begin soon. The stones, two inches in diameter, will be frozen in steel molds.

Dr. George Pigman, in charge of the tests, has ruined a lot of windshields—and birds—in the course of the program. The towels, ranging from small chickens up to 16-pound turkeys, are killed with electricity before they are fired from the 20-foot, five-inch barrel. They're stuffed in cloth sacks to keep feathers from flying all over.

COUNTY SCHEDULES PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS

Where possible local physicians and dentists are invited to participate. Dr. Siffritt said. The clinics will be held at 1 p. m. and the schedule is as follows: Morral, April 2; Grand Prairie, April 15; Pleasant, April 15; Laftue, April 11; Claridon, April 12; Agosta, April 16; Wadon, April 18; Caledonia, April 19; Kirtpatrick, April 23; Meeker, April 23; Green Camp and Campbell, April 26, and Marietta, April 30.

ADJUSTER FOR CROP INSURANCE NAMED

R. Earl Drake of New Bloomington Appointed.

R. Earl Drake of New Bloomington Route 1 has been appointed crop insurance adjuster for Marion county by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Mr. Drake's duty will be to adjust all crop insurance losses in the county. There are approximately 200 farms which carry wheat insurance.

When wheat is insured under federal all-risk insurance, and it becomes apparent it may not pay to leave it stand, the grower must notify the county AAA office so the condition of the crop can be appraised by Mr. Drake before it is disked or plowed. If the crop is appraised as a total loss, the insured will be paid at the rate of 50 per cent of the insured production, and the operator saves the cost of harvesting and has the land available for another crop.

Applications for all-risk crop insurance on the 1947, 1948 and 1949 wheat crops can now be made at the county AAA office.

LACK OF TEACHERS PREDICTED NEXT FALL

Mills Forecasts Difficulty in Filling Positions.

Difficulty in meeting teacher needs in the Marion county school system next fall was predicted today by D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools.

Although many service men and women are expected to return to teaching jobs, there still will not be an abundance of available teachers for the county schools, Mr. Mills said.

At present there are more applications for high school teaching jobs than for elementary. There is a scarcity of agriculture teachers throughout the state, Mr. Mills added. He said, however, it is still too early to know how many teaching jobs will be open this fall.

Australia's wool industry began in 1793 when 30 sheep arrived from Calcutta, and a few English sheep were brought from Ireland.

STUDY REVISION OF SCHOOL GRADE PLAN

County Educational Committee Meets with D. T. Mills.

Plans to revise the system of grading in Marion county schools were discussed at a meeting of the educational committee in the office of D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools Tuesday night.

The revised system would better define what a grade stands for, Supt. Mills said, and would better interpret a student's progress for his parents and community. Mr. Mills added it also would help to promote a uniform understanding of the meaning of grades, so that a grade in one school would mean the same as in another.

Recommendations of the committee will be submitted to school officials at a meeting April 13. Members of the educational committee include Mr. Mills and the following school superintendents: E. E. Banning of Pleasant, Orin McGlone of Prospect, Virgil Brigel of Prospect, Ralph Hewes of Waldo, Arthur Long of Meeker, Paul Kuhlman of Scott and Orval Uly of Green Camp.

Spring Quarter Plans Made by Guard Co.

Plans for the spring quarter, to include April, May and June, were made at a Company M, Ohio State Guard meeting last night in the armory.

Work during the quarter will include intensive training for the company's summer camp program at Camp Perry Aug. 10 to 18. Marksmanship, close order drill, special operations formations and interior guard will be stressed during the next three months.

The company also is planning a recruiting program to build the unit up to strength. There are openings for 10 men in the company.

UNION CHARGES LAYOFFS

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 27.—Spokesmen for three large locals of the CIO United Rubber Workers union asserted today that Firestone, Goodyear and Goodrich were laying off men and reducing work-week time in some departments. Reduction of the work week, they claimed, offset the wage increase of 18½ cents an hour granted in a recent wage and hours agreement between the union and the major producers.

KINNEY SHOE STORE WILL MOVE SUNDAY

To Occupy Remodeled Room at 142 West Center St.

The Kinney Shoe store will move out of its present quarters at 117 South Main street Sunday and will move into a modernized store at 142 West Center street. The store will open for business about the middle of April, according to H. E. Sovil, manager.

The West Center street location was formerly occupied by the Ohio Meat Market, which vacated early in March and now is at 127 South Main street.

The new Kinney shoe store will be completely modern, Sovil said today. Renovation of the quarters is being done by the Store Modernizing Service of Chicago, which has done similar jobs for Kinney stores in other cities. The front of the building, up to the second story, will be composed of structural glass. It will be ivory, except for the glass surrounding the right show window, which will be red. The door to the store will be all glass. The floor will be composed of black and white terrazzo. There will be fluorescent lighting and maple shelving. The rear of the store will be set aside as a children's department.

REAMS ASKS CHECK ON OLD AGE TRUST

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 27.—State Welfare Director Frazier Reams pressed State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today for a checkup of the $20,000,000 worth of bank accounts, insurance policies, and real estate deeds held in trust for old age pensioners by the state.

In a letter recalling that he first had requested an audit early in 1945, Reams said he felt that Ferguson was "overlooking the great importance of this matter both to the citizens of Ohio and to the recipients of aid for the aged."

Under the Aid for the Aged act which started old age pensions in July 1934, recipients must deposit bank books, insurance policies, real estate deeds, stocks and bonds, and other property and valuables with the state. After his death the properties are balanced against the amount he has received in pensions and are remainder is given to his family or other heirs.

I. M. Lamoreaux, pension chief, said the fund now totaled $20,534,873, with assessed value of real estate accounting for $12,583,287. Other items include life insurance policies with a face value of $5,852,829, bank accounts totaling $1,931,222, certificates of claim for $131,225, notes receivable for $146,742, stocks and bonds worth $81,105, and miscellaneous items totaling $8,170.

Reams said an audit probably would have to be made in each of the 33 county offices. No official statement on the probable cost was available, but the best estimates centered around $75,000.

"Mom and Dad" Film Banned After Protest

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 27.—"Mom and Dad," billed as a sex education motion picture, has been banned throughout Ohio and recalled for review by the Ohio board of censors at the request of Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Lausche's request followed a long distance telephone conversation with the Rev. M. R. Frey, chairman of the Defiance, O., Committee of Protestants which revealed the picture and voted against its public showing.

The governor said he was told that "behind the false mask of being educational" the picture actually exploited sex "to the commercial advantage of the exhibitors."

At Defiance, Rev. Frey said Lausche had stated the picture passed the Ohio censorship board in December 1944, a week before Lausche's inauguration.

The governor said the picture previously had been exhibited in Logan and Springfield.

Bricker Hits Federal Medical Care Plan

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 27.—John W. Bricker, former governor of Ohio, believes "no greater bulwark could be built against government encroachment" than extension of the hospital care plan into the field of medical and surgical service.

Bricker, speaking to the National Blue Cross convention here last night, endorsed extension of the plan declaring that the government "with its socialized medicine program would do irreparable harm to scientific development and improvement of the medical profession."

40 Ohio Dependents To Sail for Europe

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Forty Ohio wives and children will be among the first contingent of servicemen's dependents leaving next month to join their soldier breadwinners in the European theater of operations.

Only 24 enlisted men among the 700 applicants for transportation in April, the department said, attributing the small number to uncertainty of future assignments, facilities available for dependents and numbers of reassignment requests.

The total of 1,200 dependents are scheduled to leave about middle of April.

Mackenzie's Glad To Leave Europe for Good Old U. S.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

PARIS, March 27—This is by way of checking out of Europe, because your correspondent is about to exchange for that sweet place, the like of which does not exist.

In short, I'm flying home. And now as always when turning back after a protracted trip abroad, I'm feeling mighty good. That's no reflection on Europe, for I like it over here and have a host of friends.

We've had the privilege on this trip of seeing epochal history in the making for Europe is in the midst of the greatest crisis it has known since the days of the great empires.

Observations have appeared daily in this column Mackenzie's column, but there remains one outstanding impression to be recorded—on the run, as it were, before I hurry away to catch my plane—and it is this: here—social, economic, political—no good as that which our Uncle Sam has evolved. We can learn some things from Europe, but they're mostly things not to be done rather than those which should be adopted.

OHIO FARMERS PROTEST Parity Plan and OPA

By The Associated Press

LONDON, O., March 27—The federal farm parity plan and the Office of Price Administration should be eliminated, 75 farmers from six central Ohio counties contend.

The farmers, meeting at nearby South Solon last night, voted unanimous opposition to the Agriculture Adjustment Agency's price plan designed to give farmers the equivalent of 100 per cent prices. They asserted the plan failed to allow for present increased labor and investment costs.

The majority of the group also signed a petition presented by Howard D. Jewett of Portsmouth, seeking elimination of the OPA by June 30, and voted to ask congress for legislation assuring farmers 25 per cent of the nation's income, which is the percentage of farm folk in the nation's population.

Good Luck, Gentlemen

CAREER diplomats are the bulk of the UNO Security Council membership, which is either a good or a bad omen, depending on what orders they are bearing from their respective governments.

If the orders are a true reflection of popular support for the ideal of a world organization capable of giving common people of all lands security against war, career diplomats should have the skill to carry them out.

But if career diplomats have been chosen only for their ability to perform the party and thrust of diplomacy—to keep up appearances for governments that have forgotten nothing and learned nothing from the deaths and sacrifices of millions in two world wars—the omen is bad.

It is said that this meeting of the Security Council will be decisive. UNO will be made or broken in the next few weeks. That will be said of many meetings, and it will be true. But more than the fate of UNO is hanging in the balance. The fate of institutions that have been forced to the brink of chaos twice in the first half of this century is being determined.

Among the institutions are governments themselves. They are being challenged by their inability as sovereigns to protect their peoples from the common peril of war. The UNO, whatever may be its shortcomings, fulfills a dream of humanity for a common effort toward security. The delegates represent governments nominally. They represent people actually. They must not fail.

As Good a Name as Any

BERNARD M. BARUCH'S word "bunking," to describe what public officials are doing when they say wages can go up while prices stay down is as good a name as any—and more printable than most.

"Bunking," as used by Mr. Baruch, comes from the better known "bunk," sound American slang for nonsense. It is, of course, a full brother of "deunking." Oddly, in a country that specializes in the latter there is endless tolerance for the bunking that makes the debunking necessary.

Starting late last year and continuing until recently, a great many persons who knew better asserted that wage rates and hence production costs could be boosted to higher levels without causing prices to rise. It seems incredible now, by hindsight, but there actually was an argument over this absurd contention. The argument settled itself.

Wage rates are rising. So are prices. The relationship between them now is so well known and has been so widely demonstrated that no one pretends that they can be treated separately. Mr. Baruch is not disturbed about rising prices or rising wage rates, but only about non-rising production. Anything that interferes with production, he contends, is economic nonsense; i.e., bunk. Moreover, it is inflammable bunk, the kind that could blow the United States into fascism or communism.

Now We See It, Now We Don't

THERE is an evanescent quality about foreign loans when they are being discussed in Washington. Taxpayers feel like spectators in a magician's audience: now we see it, now we don't.

When the loans are being discussed by experts who are not responsible to the people, they are called something else—subsidies, payments on debts of gratitude and investments in international trade and good will. But when they are taken up by politicians who must go to the people for reelection, the loans are likely to be dealt with more harshly. There is down-to-earth talk about their cost, the interest they bear or do not bear, their relationship to the national debt and the fact they probably will not be repaid.

But if these disagreeable facts are brought to the attention of the experts, they say that to mention them is to be provincial and isolationist. They speak of international responsibility as a creditor nation and the importance of keeping up a free exchange of commodities. They speak of cartels, sterling blocs and good neighbors. It sounds convincing until some politician retorts that taxes are too high and no matter what fancy terms are used the United States pays the freight.

The people of the United States want their government to do the right thing about loans to other governments, but it must be admitted the government makes the decision no easier by its own confusion. Either there are loans to be paid back, or gifts, "lend-lease," which was neither lending nor leasing, has given American taxpayers a special reason for wanting such things to bear honest labels.

Purges and Penalties Disturb Democratic Peace.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The mud is getting thicker all the time.

Up rose the dubious Democrat, Commerce Secretary Wallace, to demand a commission of party leaders to discard nonconformists. This added a fresh top-layer of mire to the slippery Democratic condition, in a novel and surprising way. Because Wallace made such a career out of being a nonconformist himself that the party would not have him again for vice president with Roosevelt, but chose Mr. Truman in his place. His proposal sounded as if the detached tail of the party had announced itself as the head and proposed to sever the body.

Hannegan Wades In
The matter got up to its knees in mud when party Chairman Hannegan added his portion to the Wallace layer—by denouncing "a minority of dissident Democrats." This came so soon after the Pauley fray, some interpreters thought the denunciation meant Hannegan wanted to purge the party of the supra-party forces which defeated his and Truman's man for the under-secretaryship of navy—namely, the Ickes-CIO-Pepper group which lives and speaks above the party, sometimes with Wallace joining in (as when several of them opposed a Democrat and favored a Labor party candidate).

WAITING FOR A STREETCAR?

Add solution to the housing problem. In Chicago, 369 outmoded streetcars have been put up for auction.

Shortly now the Illinois metropolis will boast a new and different subdivision, Trolley Heights.

I can just see them now, row on row of ivy-covered love-nests, their headlights peeking out from behind the morning glories.

How symbolical, at the end of a long, hard day, to turn one's steps homeward to old Number 987 and the end of the line.

Properly appurtenanced, these transitory domiciles will offer all the traditional comforts of home—to say nothing of a long-needed innovation: the stenciled reminder, "To Open Door, Step on Treadle," to speed the parking guest.

Only one aspect of trolley life offers cause for apprehension. How frequently, one wonders, would you be awakened in the middle of the night by traffic-bearing incubators demanding transportation home?

That's Housing Ad

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—The apartment shortage here is getting worse and worse.

In the "Apartment Wanted" classified ads of The Times, an ex-soldier pleaded poetically: "Home from Japan after four years of war."

"Must I live in a tent for four years more?"

A couple separated from two children by the housing situation verified:

"Do you have a heart? Don't keep us apart."

And some women advertisers went to epic lengths:

"Two coed grads in despair. Want apartment to rent or share."

"With young women, Manhattan anywhere."

"To $100; closets to spare. Write G300 Times, where."

Teachers Busy

By The Associated Press
POZNAN—Poland is hard up for school buildings and school teachers, so children go to classes in day and night shifts.

It is not uncommon to find seven teachers charged with the task of instructing 900 children. The teachers partially solve the problem of trying to give attention to all of them by teaching classes on four-hour shifts. This continues until long after nightfall.

date in the congressional election in New York City, six weeks back.) These supra-Democrats have uniformly been "dissident," so naturally, some people thought Wallace and Hannegan wanted to purge the regime of these obstructionists.

Unfortunately this natural deduction is not correct. This reasonable assumption must fall before any investigation of the motives. An unreasonable explanation is the proper answer. Mr. Wallace wants to kick out of the party the Democratic majority in both houses because it has failed to enact the CIO program, which is also a part of the Truman program, including unemployment compensation, minimum wage and such ventures. Mr. Hannegan was speaking against the southern and other Democratic legislators who have held back this program of the Ickes-Pepper-CIO-Wallace ilk.

Truman Smoothes It Over
Into this mudpile, which had been prepared for silencing, rushed President Truman to smoothen it over. He renounced purges of the Wallace fashion, and withdrew denunciation of the Hannegan order, saying he was not in favor of disciplining bootlers. He appealed for voluntary support for his program. Thereupon Mr. Hannegan presented to the Jackson day dinner the new policy of "like even hand," urged that the bogged legislation be enacted and concluded: "that way, for our party, lies victory in 1946."

This, the belabored congressmen do not believe. No great popular demand for the legislative items has been evident to them. They are inclined to believe CIO is less popular this year than last. The strikes and their inconclusive settlements have strengthened their conviction that Hannegan and Wallace are not only operating in the CIO lion's mouth but sharpening its teeth, which indeed have already been used to bite Mr. Truman here and there.

These Democratic confusions have inspired the comment you hear frequently these days that the Republicans are approaching the threshold of victory.

I think the time has not yet arrived for such a final expectation. If Truman can get the economic system working by fall, the Democrats will be able to strengthen their case. The pending Truman-CIO legislation is of little genuine importance, because it does not touch the vital question of the nation's economic welfare this year.

The question is: Can Truman get the country going? And from the answer which events will furnish to that question in the next eight months, the election result will be drawn.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, March 27, 1936. A crowd of upwards of 200,000 saw Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown capture the Grand National Sweepstakes at Alnmore, England. Five Americans held tickets on the winner of the Irish Free hospital sweepstakes. A Marion man, John Dugan, who held a ticket on a horse "in the money" and later sold it to a friend, was to share in stakes of between $7,500 and $10,000, he was informed when his friend, a Piqua salesman, telephoned him after the race that they would split the winnings.

The first step in a proposal to ask Marion voters to pass a special levy at the May primaries in order that the city might place its finances on a sound footing was taken at a meeting of city council. Malish Houseworth, Waldo township's only remaining Civil war veteran, celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary. Mr. Houseworth, known to his friends as "Frosty," included in his daily exercises two or three trips from his home to the village, a distance of about three-quarters of a mile.

A group of approximately 20 players, fans and prospective backers met at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. office to plan for the organization of a baseball league. Plans were made to contact industrial concerns to enlist their support of the games.

George W. Skinner, 27, died at his home at 181 Dix Avenue. County health officials had just concluded immunization treatment against diphtheria for approximately 300 children in the county between the ages of six months and 15 years. The work was in charge of Dr. N. Sifrit, county health commissioner, Miss Alma G. Denney, county tuberculosis nurse and Miss Bertha Bell, county health nurse.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, March 27, 1926. James S. Madden, 34, of Columbus, married and the father of three children, and Harry E. Duncan, 31, of Zanesville, convicted of participation in the $8,000 C. D. & M. payroll holdup, were sentenced to 25 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Judge Charles L. Justice.

E. L. Bush was elected president of the Marion Garden club at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Lau on Vernon Heights boulevard.

Engine Output Drops from 24,000 a Month to 23.

By JACK STINNETT

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—In the fall of 1918, the country was swamped with Liberty (airplane) engines. Fourteen years later, they still were being used as the power plants of some of our military planes. In the meantime, Germany, Italy, and England, to mention only the leaders, had brought out new motors.

In one wartime month, this country produced more than 24,000 engines for military planes. In January of this year, that same industry produced on order 23 conventional motors. Strikes prevented production of about 25 of other types.

In 1934, the annual production of military aircraft engines touched its between-war low—688.

Must Not Repeat

A little more than a year ago, Robert M. Lovett, then assistant secretary of war for air, summed up the comparative picture in these words:

"We have the advantage of a shining example of what not to do. We find it in the period following the first World War. Surplus Liberty engines (then) choked off our aircraft industries and development until we fell way behind the procession."

"This problem of surpluses continued through 1933, 34 years after the last war, and in 1928 brought a formal protest from the War Department, pointing out that engine development for the air corps had been seriously handicapped by the existence of this surplus hanging over the market. There were 3,000 Liberty engines still on hand at that date, 10 years after the war. We cannot afford to repeat such mistakes."

Three of the major airlines al-

Swank and the Ball Parks

GET me a table up front at the ball game? How about a reservation for six at the double-header. And will you put on four glasses of champagne? "Never mind who's playing, what I wanna know is who's in the floor!"

These may be routine cracks in American league ball parks this season. Two private club rooms with bars and 400 boxes to which members only will be admitted will be a feature of the games at Yankee Stadium.

The boxes and club rooms will be open to members paying from $500 to $900 a season, and most of the memberships have already been grabbed by bankers, brokers, business men, theatrical men, etc.

Thus will exclusiveness, social distinctions be introduced to that stronghold of democracy, the American national game of baseball. Down through baseball history the millionaire has rubbed elbows with the street cleaner at the ball parks. "Take your coat off, let your hair down, relax and be one of the gang!" has been the traditional cry.

All men may not have been positive they were equal but at the ball game they felt closer to it than anywhere else.

And now-of all places—the baseball parks to find class consciousness, the upper and lower levels of society, financial distinction and a touch of the night club and country club atmosphere. One club room will be modernistic with chromium fixtures and red leather chairs; the other will carry the mood of an old English inn of the Heathcliff-on-Finchley type. The bar and restaurant will be a delirious.

Bleacher fans arise!

Are ya gonna stand for these distinctions between the club house set and the peasantry at the ball game?

Are ya gonna take your hotdogs, peanuts and lemon-soda laying down while the upper-setters move swankily about their nifty boxes and club room suppers? Punches and Miel Juleps, and eating guinea hen a la Louis XIV?

Revolt! To the ramparts! We want fights between ball players, not between members of safe society! We demand that the sliding be done by the base-runners, not by the champagne buyers!

We wanna know that when we hear the cry "Take that bum out!" it is being directed at a wild pitcher, not at a wild socialist!

We demand that the bottle of beer, the pop bottle, the frankfurter and the cause of democracy remain intact at American baseball parks, never to give way to the breast of chicken under glass, the magnum of vintage wine, cafe society, the gossip column and special privileges for the bourgeois!

Bleachers, arise!

President Truman says the UNO charter needs teeth. And not the false kind, either!

Henry Wallace favors tossing out of office any member of Congress who doesn't vote strictly on party lines. He thinks independent thinking should be plowed under.

Shedding

By Truman Twill

The change from heavy to light protection from weather, called shedding, is borrowed from the lower animals, who have a marked advantage. They do it sensibly, it costs them nothing to replace what they lose, and they have no worry about moths.

In the case of man, shedding is emotional. He makes a celebration of the fact it is warm enough to take off his long underwear and spends the next week under the doctor's care. The shedding at the Twillery is unusually advanced for so early in the season. Five pairs of winter mittens and three knitted mufflers already are gone forever. They were shed on back steps, tree branches and running boards of automobiles.

Out of a total of four pairs of galoshes, one pair has disappeared entirely, two are half gone and only one pair is still intact. This is not a loss, however, because one stray pair has been acquired and half of another pair is in sight, two lots away.

Stocking caps and winter headgear of the type in vogue for the younger generation also have disappeared, and not a minute too soon. It is suspected that they were thrown down sewer gratings, which will save wiser heads the trouble, if true.

The supply of cast-off windbreakers and snaz suits seems intact as to numbers, but much have worse for wear. These articles of clothing have been scarce during the war. They have been given children until children are beginning to look as showmen in their garments. A motion to shed a lot of this stuff permanently would be in order.

There also is adult shedding. Women's winter hats, for example, which are stuffed away in boxes and drawers so they can be taken out next fall and used as evidence that it is time to get a new hat.

The shedding of bed clothing is part of the game, a rough part. There comes a time when some of the bed clothing must go. But where does it go? Why must it be hidden so carefully that a half-frozen sleeper who doily goes looking for a blanket when the weather turns cold overnight can find nothing but sheets?

And apropos of things disappearing, what causes wool socks always to be two inches shorter in the fall than in the spring when they are shed? Also, who notifies the moths that the wool dresses and wool overcoats with two or three years of wear left in them are hanging unguarded in the closet, waiting to be eaten? When warm weather comes, cold weather never is so bad as it is when it is not. But more than 24 hours. Shedding wouldn't be any fun if it didn't catch us shivering; beside a cold radiator and cursing the impulse that led to the catching of the worst cold of the winter—a few days after the beginning of spring.

HIGHER RAIL COSTS CITED IN REPORT

C. & O. Reviews 1945 and Points to Future.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Necessity for every possible improvement in railroad revenue is stressed in a report of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for 1945 issued today.

The report shows that the volume in 1946 will be well above any previous year, and that practically everything that can be done to increase revenues is being done.

The report states that the volume in 1946 will be well above any previous year, and that practically everything that can be done to increase revenues is being done.

again this year, with heavy coastwise and lake shipments supplemented by exports to coal-starved nations abroad.

New and enlarged manufacturing plants along the railroad should result in a permanent increase in output, and the merchandise traffic is likely to hold up well, the report states, while ending of troop movements through Newport News will bring a substantial decline in passenger revenue.

The report shows for 1945 net income of $16,379,847, equal to $2.14 a common share, the lowest for many years, due principally to the accelerated write-off of capital investments in facilities purchased to further the conduct of the war. In the preceding year net income was $27,340,995, equal to $3.57 a common share.

As a result of the amortization of defense facilities, which amounted to $18,550,192 in 1945, the company accruals for Federal income, surtax, and excess profits taxes were a net credit of $8,533,399, compared with accruals of $38,838,190 in 1944.

Chesapeake & Ohio reports a net reduction of $9,387,000 in total outstanding debt in 1945, bringing to $32,934,000 the amount of debt reduction from 1938 to 1945. In the company's stated capitalization 49 per cent is share capital, and 51 per cent is funded debt.

Programs on the Air

In its annual report to stockholders, just issued, CBS stressed two significant developments as having an "important influence on the operation of the network the next few years."

One it named as "inauguration of color television in the ultra high frequencies" and the other "the ultimate supplanting of today's standard broadcasting by frequency modulation."

As to color, the report restated the network's position both as to what it described as the possibility of better picture definition on the higher frequencies and as to improved operation over the present black and white system on lower frequencies.

As to FM, the report said "it is confidently expected ultimately to become the preferred audio service for the great majority of people" because it "possesses such inherent technical superiority in transmission and reception."

Iran Leader Says Reds Withdrawing

By The Associated Press
TEHRAN, March 27—Prince Moazzar Firouz, political under-secretary of state and director of propaganda said today that the Russian evacuation of Kazvin, 80 miles northwest of Tehran, "has begun and should be completed within three or four days."
 United States and British diplomatic officials said, however, that despite Russian troop movements northward they were not yet sure that the Red army intended to withdraw completely from the semi-autonomous Iranian province of Azerbaijan.
 Firouz denied that any "secret agreement" existed between Iran and the Soviet Union concerning the Russian evacuation.
 An Iranian general staff officer said there have been no reports that any Russian troops actually had crossed the Iranian frontier into the Soviet Union.
 Some observers here foresaw the possibility that the Russian columns now streaming northward might withdraw only as far as Iranian Azerbaijan, which borders on the USSR. These sources said the Russians might support this action by maintaining that the province is no longer a part of Iran.

A MARION LADY SPIT UP ACID LIQUIDS FOR HOURS AFTER EATING

For hours after every meal, a Marion lady used to spit up a strong acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach blood, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELPER. Her food agrees with her. No gas, bloating or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this remarkable New Compound.
 ERB-HELPER contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELPER. Sold by all drug stores here in Marion.—Adv.

RUSSIA TO GIVE JAP PUPPET TO CHINESE

By The Associated Press
CHUNGKING, March 27—Russia agreed today to release Henry Pu-Yi, former puppet governor of Manchuria, to China as this country's vice minister of foreign affairs reported the recently tense Sino-Soviet situation had "eased."
 Liu Chieh, the vice minister, was asked by correspondents if the crisis in relations between China and Russia had passed. "I don't think I can make any categorical statement," he replied. "We've never given up hope. No one can say now that the situation is on a very sound basis."
 K. C. Wu, minister of information, said the Russians had agreed to give up Pu-Yi after protracted negotiations. It generally is assumed that the former Japanese puppet will be tried as a war criminal.
 Liu said China had accepted Russia's offer to withdraw her troops from Manchuria by the end of April, but the foreign office is not yet able to state the extent at which the process is under way. The Russians have notified China of withdrawal only from Mukden and Fushun.
 It was announced officially that the Sino-American military committee had directed executive headquarters in Peking to send three teams into Manchuria to halt fighting between Government and Communist troops. The order instructed the teams to stay clear of Russian-occupied areas.

VINSON BACKS OPA, SEES LEVEL BUDGET

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 27—Secretary of the Treasury Vinson said today that "we are well on the way to a balanced budget" and asked that OPA controls on the national economy be kept "a little looser."
 "Today we can be more optimistic about the future than ever before," Vinson told the house banking committee. "It would be pathetic if we muffed this grand opportunity."
 The committee is considering legislation to keep OPA going another year.
 Vinson said treasury receipts were larger than estimated, expenditures were smaller than expected, and "the two together mean that we are well on the way to a balanced budget."
 He disputed contentions of the National Association of Manufacturers and others that removal of all price controls would stimulate production of scarce goods.
 "It would be stimulating—stimulating in a fanciful, dizzy sort of way," he said.
 Despite the nation's "sound and pleasant" financial picture, Vinson said, "taxes must remain high."
 Federal expenditures in February dropped to $3,500,000,000 from last June's high of $9,700,000,000, he reported.
 "We have built up a tremendous demand for most consumer goods. This demand is backed up by large savings. The amount of currency, bank deposits, and United States securities owned by all non-bank investors has increased from about $82,000,000,000 at the end of 1939 to about $300,000,000,000 today."

BRUTAL SCHEME LAID TO VON RIBBENTROP

By The Associated Press
NUERNBERG, March 27—Unexpected prosecution evidence that Joachim Von Ribbentrop urged "extermination or concentration camp" for Hungary's self million Jews in 1943 brought from a decisive witness before the international military tribunal today a declaration that the former German foreign minister "blindly followed Hitler's orders."
 The prosecution presented captured minutes of a Hitler conference with Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, on April 17, 1943, which quoted Horthy's complaint that hundreds of thousands of Jews had been "deprived of all possibilities of livelihood" and had become a burden on the state.
 Hitler, the minutes said, called these Jews "tuberculosis bacilli" and Von Ribbentrop was quoted as stating they should "either be exterminated or taken to a concentration camp."
 The defense witness on the stand, Adolf Von Steengracht, former first secretary in the Nazi foreign office, looked at the document when it was handed him by British Col. H. J. Phillimore and remarked:
 "I would like to make a distinction between Von Ribbentrop's statements and what he did when he became Hitler's 'hyped tool.'"
 Von Steengracht also said the former foreign minister must have agreed with Heinrich Himmler in October, 1943, for the "eastward evacuation"—a synonym for gas chamber extinction—of foreign Jews trapped in German-occupied lands.

The "varrant was issued last Friday.
 There was no announcement of how the young Russian officer had obtained the documents and plans or whom the officer had "induced" to obtain the information.
 It was disclosed that the ship Redin was preparing to board the floating cannery, the SS Alma Ana, which had undergone a year-long $2,000,000 refurnishing in the Oregon harbor and which reportedly had been ready to sail for several weeks.
 The ship has been lying at the Columbia basin terminal waiting for a letter of credit to release a load of 300,000 pounds of sisal rope purchased by the Soviet government from the War Assets Corp. The necessary papers arrived Tuesday and loading of the vessel began immediately. Agents halted the Russian officer as he boarded the vessel, after he had been given a "check" after (PST) (9 a. m. EST).
 Redin, who became head of the Soviet purchasing commission office in Seattle after the staff was curtailed at the end of the war, was described as active socially among other Russians in Seattle but little known to Americans there.
 Main Pacific coast officers of the purchasing commission were located at Portland during the war. It was from there that some $1,782,000,000 worth of lend-lease goods were shipped to the Soviet Union for the war first against Germany and finally against Japan.

Degnan Case Tipster Found Dead in Fire

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, March 27—Gloria Williams, 21-year-old blond waitress who once created a flurry of excitement by declaring she possessed information concerning the unsolved Degnan kidnapping, was found dead today in a smoke filled room on the north side.
 Police Lieutenant John Boland said Miss Williams apparently died of suffocation in a fire started from a cigarette.
 Miss Williams, picked up by Sirogyan, Wis., a vagrancy charge, told them she had fled from Chicago in terror after overhearing a tavern patron discuss the kidnap slaying of Suzanne Degnan, six, on Jan. 7, as though having knowledge of the crime. Returned to Chicago to face the man, she was unable to identify him or give any information about the mystery.

STAFF OF GI PAPER IRKED, ASKS TO QUIT

By The Associated Press
ROME, March 27—The entire staff of the Mediterranean edition of the U. S. Army newspaper Stars and Stripes requested reassignment today after six weeks of struggle over censorship of the servicemen's letter column with Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, theater commander.
 Gen. Lee in a verbal order yesterday relieved from duty Maj. Hal C. Kestler, Waumona, Iowa, the officer in charge of Stars and Stripes.
 Kestler said three junior officers and 51 enlisted men on the paper had sought transfers as a result, and that he had asked for an army court of inquiry to investigate his administration.
 Kestler addressed a letter to Gen. Lee through Brig. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., commanding the Rome area, saying that he welcomed relief from duty which "because of repeated affronts to my ability, character and intelligence, has now become intolerable."

MEDIATORS BLAME WESTINGHOUSE OFFER

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 27—Government-appointed mediators in the 71-day old strike of 75,000 Westinghouse Electric Corp. employees reported to Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach last night the company's position made further mediation "impossible."
 The mediators, Arthur S. Meyer and William H. Davis, said Westinghouse made a wage increase proposal March 19 to the CIO electrical workers and has refused either to continue negotiations or to meet with the union unless the offer is accepted "in full."
 They said the offer "takes the form" of an 18½ cents hourly increase but actually is not, since it fails to cover employees of the Westinghouse lamp department and has various other "strings" attached.
 The company has stipulated, they added, that its wage offer expires at midnight, March 31, also the expiration time of the present contract. The two mediators declared the time remaining "this month was 'insufficient for a reasonable negotiation or mediation of the many provisions of the company's proposal.'"
 Davis, a former chairman of the National War Labor Board, and Meyer, head of the New York state mediation board, withdrew from the case on March 22.

Legion Aims Outlined in Talk Here by State, National Leader

Speaking principally to the Legion members of the American Legion, those who are veterans of World War II, Martin V. Coffey of Middletown explained what the Legion is and what the members must do in order to carry on the tradition of the Legion which has been established, when he addressed members of Elks-McGinnis Post No. 162, of the Legion, at a meeting Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout.
 Mr. Coffey is past department commander of the Ohio American Legion, past national vice commander, and at present is a member of the national executive committee.
 Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to Elks-McGinnis post were guests and other Legion members in the county attended. Approximately 175 persons were present.

Legion Responsibility

Mr. Coffey said that democracy, prosperity, and decency of the nation must depend largely on the interest shown by the Legion, as a large proportion of the veterans of the war are members of the organization. He said that in his opinion and in the opinion of other Legion officers, the United Nations Organization must continue to operate through the years to come if there is to be peace in the world.
 Scientific research from the military as well as the industrial standpoint must be continued, if we want the country to remain peaceful, he declared. He said the Legion is urging congress to establish military intelligence in this country and to train young men in that field, so the government will be acquainted with plans being made in the other countries. They are also asking congress to establish a school of diplomacy and to train young men in this work.

Mr. Coffey said the Legion could see no other means for salvation in this country in the future than to have some form of universal military training. He said the United States must be ready in case it is ever attacked in the future.

ARMY CASTE SYSTEM PROBE TO BE SECRET

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 27—A six-man board, headed by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, decided today to hear behind closed doors complaints of "GI's" about the Army's so-called officer "caste" system.
 Starting an investigation ordered by Secretary of War Patterson, Doolittle told reporters the group felt that witnesses would speak more freely in private than in public hearings. Patterson advised the board that it had a "free hand."
 New gripes already have popped up, Doolittle disclosed. One of these is a complaint that the board itself was "packed" with four officers and no privates were included in its membership.
 Doolittle, wartime commander of the Eighth Air Force, noted, however, that "every one of us has served as a private." Two members left the Army as sergeants.

First witnesses will be heard tomorrow and Doolittle said the board hoped to wind up the inquiry within six weeks.

"We plan first to call on enlisted men who think they have complaints and then some of the officers," he said.

The long list of witnesses ranged all the way up to generals. The latter were not identified, but among those invited from the ranks are cartoonist Bill Mauldin and Author Marion Hargrave. Both lampooned military "brass hats" before and after they doffed their uniforms.

SENATE GROUP PUTS OKAY ON VARDAMAN

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 27—A senate banking subcommittee today recommended confirmation of Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr. for a 14-year term on the Federal Reserve board of governors.
 Chairman Radcliffe (D-Me.) informed the full banking committee that the subcommittee had voted without dissent in favor of confirmation, with Senator Butler (R-Neb) not participating.
 Radcliffe said serious charges had been made against Vardaman, President Truman's naval aide, and these had been "studied very carefully" and at great length by the subcommittee.
 "We have come to the conclusion that the charges were not sustained," Radcliffe said.
 Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.), acting as chairman of the full banking committee, expressed pleasure at the subcommittee action and said the full committee would consider the nomination at an executive session "at the earliest possible moment."

AFI AND HOUSEWIVES SPEAK UP FOR OPA
By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 27.—The American Federation of Labor and the National Federation of Housewives met today in asking Congress to pass a law to control price and rent.

Spokesmen for a women's organization, William Green, said that the "premature abandonment of price controls would bring chaos."

He is not in sympathy with the labor union's entire economic program, asserting that the "as a whole is made up of a few and conflicting interests."

Green and "profiteers" are determined to destroy price controls.

The people are frightened at the feverish run on the boom which is already upon them."

Members of 20 organizations, including membership of 100,000 women, submitted a rebuttal to business leaders who have told the banking industry that it would be better off without OPA.

The National Association of Manufacturers last week called for a return of price control to the American housewife, in the best interest of all the American people."

The women's organizations said, however, they want to leave the controls with OPA for another year and extend rent controls two years.

In the air a half-hour, Mrs. Sinning said "an airplane ride is a thrill no one should miss." She was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Wish and family, in Bellefontaine.

Doesn't the doorbell always ring when you're in no condition to receive callers? What this, and every, homemaker needs is a downstairs lavatory where she can tidy up in a hurry when the doorbell rings.

Almost every home has a closet or unused corner that can be converted into a convenient little powder room, and it is a home improvement that will benefit every member of the family.

The initial cost is small compared to the advantages, and since water costs so little, you'll scarcely notice the "upkeep" on your water bill.

Boyle Finds Greece Hot Over Election Day

(Boyle's column today is in the form of a letter to his wife, Frances, in the United States).

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
ATHENS, March 27 — Dear Frances:

Greece has about the same population as New York City and everybody seems to be running for political office.

Next Sunday is national election day and everybody is steamed up over issues and nobody can concentrate on his work. The Greeks have a law boiling point politically and every sidewalk cafe is overflowing with Mark Hannas. If you halt someone and ask him to give you the time he hands you a political pamphlet and delivers a half-hour speech against Communism or King George.

There are no "Post No Signs" here. Every public and private business building is plastered with portraits of candidates, their records and promises and political slogans. So far, by common agreement, no one has turned the Parthenon into a billboard.

My hotel is on the main business street and each morning from my window I can see the white columns of the Parthenon on the Acropolis. It is much more damaged than I had thought from seeing schoolbook pictures. Only the skeleton of its Periclean beauty remains, but the other night they illuminated it and then you could glimpse some fragment of "the glory that was Greece."

Spring is there

I flew here from Cairo with the British Royal Airforce and shivered through two blustery, miserable days before spring came. The sun shines warmly now and the air is so wonderful they ought to bottle it and export it to Manhattan instead of Greek wrestlers.

Athens is quite modern. Its central section shows no signs of damage from the German occupation but in some residential areas apartment buildings still bear bullet and shell marks. Housing is short here, too, and rents fabulous.

I like the Greeks very much. They probably had it tougher than any people in occupied Europe but they don't sit around and complain about the past now. They are very friendly to Americans.

Mad at Bulgarians
They are still mad at the Bulgarians for jumping on them when Germany had them down and many paraders were yelling "On to Sofia."

Clothing and food prices are high and you need an adding machine for every transaction because one American dollar equals 3,000 Greek drachmas. I haven't seen anything like it since China, where, after buying a meal you almost needed to hire a small boy to carry home the change. The streets are full of black market money operators and peddlers of all kinds selling everything from postage stamps to crepe rubber shoe soles and saccharine tablets. You would like the poultry shops here. There are more confectionary stores than saloons back home, all full of rich sugary concoctions stuffed with yellow goo and

Review of Plays Features Dinner of Marion Groups

BROADWAY came to Marion last evening when Cleo Dawson Smith, of Lexington, Ky., a reviewer of plays, sketched current New York shows and presented a review of Tennessee Williams' prize-winning play "The Glass Menagerie" before members of the Marion Association of University Women and their guests at Hotel Harding.

Joining the hostess club for the program were members of the Marion Altrusa club of which the speaker is a member, patrons of the University Women's group and guests.

Attendance at a program given by Mrs. Smith, who is a frequent guest speaker here, is a "must" on the calendars of those interested in the stage, and last night's review was no exception. Her brilliant interpretation of the ambitious mother, Amanda, her shy daughter and wandering son, left nothing to be desired in the way of entertainment.

Adding to the evening's pleasure and coming as a surprise to the hostess group and their guests was the appearance on the program of Dr. Harlan Tarbell of Chicago, international, known magician, mental scientist, author and teacher of magic. Dr. Tarbell, who is just completing a coast to coast tour, stopped in Marion to confer with Mrs. Smith regarding a manuscript for her new book. His book of five volumes on magic, containing more than 1,100 illustrations on magic has won the acclaim of magicians throughout the world and he is actively interested in the development of eyeless vision at Avon, Conn.

"We are just on the edge of a new era in this scientific development and as yet do not know just what can be done," he believes. His tricks of magic last evening included the identification of many articles, such as social security cards, certificates of title, membership and personal cards and disclosing names and other information written on them, while blindfolded.

Mrs. Smith, who believes there is only one theater and "that is life," referred to 1935 as a momentous year both on the stage and in the lives of the people. In sketching current plays she catalogued "Life With Father" as still being the great American classic, and named herself as the one and only living soul who doesn't like "Carousel," but added "the music is lovely." "The Voice of the Turtle," "Song of Norway," and other productions were recommended as "not to be missed."

The program hour was preceded by a dinner at which covers were placed for 150 members and guests. Snapdragons in attractive arrangements and huckleberry foliage decorated the tables which were lighted with tall tapers. Mrs. T. H. Sutherland, president of the University Women's association, president and president-elect, Mrs. Florence Schuler, president of the Altrusa club, and Miss Ruth Kramer, vice president of Altrusa International.

District Session Set by P.T.A. at Gallion

SPECIAL TO THE STAR
GALLION, March 27—Gallion will be host this spring for the annual conference of the North Central District of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers. The meeting will be held April 8, at Senior High school auditorium. Dr. Joseph Miller, national chairman of mental hygiene, will be speaker. Mrs. Ralph Pollock of Gallion is director of the district.

Announcement of the conference was made Wednesday evening at the March meeting of the Gallion City P.T.A. Council at Senior High school. The conference program was presented by M. A. Povernire, superintendent of schools.

Miss Lucy Allen, health nurse and attendance teacher, reported on the annual pre-school conference in May for children who will start to school next fall.

Another report was given by Mrs. Gerald Bosler.

stringent enough to release materials for the 2,700,000-home goal set by President Truman. The order forbids the start of any construction or repairs—except small jobs ranging from $400 for a dwelling to $15,000 for an industrial plant—without express approval of one of the new field offices.

In reiterating his plea for $600,000,000 in subsidies, Wyatt told the banking committee yesterday that even with such "premium payments" he was afraid home building costs are going to go up some more.

Says It's Cheaper
Wyatt pitched his subsidy argument on the ground that the alternative—raising the price of scarce materials in general—would cost the public five times as much as the benefit payments.

But the Chamber of Commerce said it was opposed to the use of subsidies "as a price control device."

"Subsidies conceal inflation and establish, in a sense, dishonest prices," the Chamber statement said. "By maintaining prices at artificially low levels they tend to accentuate shortages by creating still further lack of parity between supply and demand. They are open to administrative abuses. They place a premium on inefficiency and tend to freeze high cost. They are an expense to the U. S. treasury and thus add further to the budgetary deficit. That is not the way to help the veteran."

Ohio Pledges Aid in Housing Program

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 27—The federal government today had Ohio's pledge of cooperation in its campaign to restrict most building operations to residential properties.

Gov. Frank Lausche said yesterday the state would cooperate "within the limits of its power" with the new federal building regulations.

Lausche said the state department of industrial relations issued permits for construction or repair of commercial building of apartments of five or more units and that such building could not be constructed if permits were withheld.

The governor emphasized that construction already approved by the department would not be affected by the federal ban.

U. S. Searches Jap Diplomats for Loot

By The Associated Press
URAGI, JAPAN, March 27—A surprise American search for an estimated $5,000,000 cache of currency and jewels turned the homecoming of some of Japan's top European diplomats into a highly polished game of cops and robbers today.

Assets valued at several thousand dollars—most of which was believed to belong to the Japanese government—were discovered in the first stages of a search of the 336 passengers on the repatriation ship Tsukushi Maru.

Maj. J. V. Duff, military government officer of the Eighth army, said he had received reports that the diplomats were carrying cash, jewelry and securities that might be worth $5,000,000.

A large portion of this is assets of the Japanese government which the government had ordered the diplomats to turn in for reparations," Duff said.

COAL

miners' next week, in line with an admission of a traditional refusal to work without a contract.

Lewis insisted he was not calling a strike, and he cited figures to indicate that coal stockpiles are sufficient to meet industrial needs unless the contract negotiations are protracted.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the coal operators' negotiating committee, told a news conference Lewis had refused to discuss wage and hour demands until the operators accepted the "principle" of a health and welfare fund for the coal miners.

The "principle," O'Neill continued, was rejected by the operators. Under Lewis' proposal, it would have been based on an assessment for all coal produced to be paid by the industry and administered by the union.

Calls It "Jumbo-Jumbo"
Lewis told reporters that a six-point proposal offered by the operators as a basis for continuing negotiations was "jumbo-jumbo." High on this list was an offer of approximately 12 1/2 cents an hour wage increase, which the operators said was in accord with recent pay boosts granted by the steel, oil and automobile industries.

As a compromise on the health and welfare fund issue, the operators proposed setting up a joint committee to work out a plan of contributions by miners and operators to a fund which would be used to "mitigate unusual hardships" resulting from mine accidents.

Ohio Region's Miners Await Lewis Call

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 27—Approximately 20,000 members of the United Mine Workers' District 6, embracing Ohio and four counties of West Virginia, would be affected if John L. Lewis called upon his miners to take a "rest" beginning April 1.

The union's contract with bituminous coal operators expires at midnight Sunday.

Most of the Ohio miners are employed in nine counties—Belmont, Harrison, Athens, Hocking, Muskingum, Perry, Jefferson, Guernsey and Tuscarawas.

John Owens, UMW district president, estimated 48,000,000 tons of coal now lay above ground in the district. Ohio consumes 65,000,000 tons annually, he said, and produces 33,000,000 tons annually.

While declining to predict how soon a halt in coal production would cripple Ohio industries, he said that an extended stoppage would "paralyze everything."

Caledonia Residents Injured in Accident

Miss Annabelle Pommert, 23, and Mrs. Robert Bayles, both of Caledonia, were admitted to City hospital suffering from minor cuts and bruises resulting from an automobile accident yesterday at 5:40 p. m. at the intersection of routes 39 and 30 south. They were taken to the hospital in the M. H. Gunder and Sons ambulance.

A car driven by Miss Pommert, in which Mrs. Bayles was riding, and a truck driven by Richard Lauer, 67, of Coshocton collided at the intersection, state highway patrolmen said, when Lauer attempted to turn off route 30 into 98 just as Miss Pommert's car rounded a nearby curve. Both vehicles were damaged.

By The Associated Press
DES MOINES, March 27—Oren O. Burgess, 39, Moine, Ill., who served 18 months in the Polk county jail and the Iowa State penitentiary for a taxicab driver's holdup which he claimed he didn't do, today was a free man and back with his two motherless sons, Dickie, 10, and Johnnie, 7.

Last week a jury, following a retrial on the holdup charge, acquitted Burgess after a Rock Island railroad conductor testified he saw Burgess on a train the night of the holdup.

Judge Tom R. Morrow, on recommendation of the county attorney, yesterday dismissed charges of assault with intent to rob a grocer the same night as the holdup.

"If I live to be a hundred," Burgess declared with a grin, "I'll never forget this day."
